The Memory of Pablo Escobar Jun 23 2022 The story of 'the richest and most violent gangster in history' is told here in hundreds of photographs gathered by photographer James Mollison. Pablo Escobar, the head of the Medellin Cartel, was responsible for supplying 80 percent of the world's cocaine during the 1980s. In an attempt to avoid extradition to the USA, he declared war on the Colombian state and thousands died as a result. He only surrendered on condition that he could be housed in his own private jail. Escaping a year later, he was relentlessly pursued by the Colombian police with the support of America's DEA until he was shot and killed in 1993. This visual biography includes 350 photographs and documents, most previously unpublished, including Escobar family photographs, police record photographs, snapshots by the DEA officer assigned to track Escobar down, and the archive of the colonel whose team eventually shot and killed him. It includes Mollison's own photographs addressing the Escobar legacy - photographs of his properties (including the remnants of his private zoo), houses he gave to the poor and his fleet of jets. The book's extensive and revealing text draws on over 100 new interviews with family members, Medellin Cartel associates, Colombian police and judges, and survivors of Escobar's killing sprees.

Pablo Escobar and Colombian Narcoculture Oct 15 2021 "In this exploration of Colombian drug lord Pablo Escobar's impact on popular culture, Aldona Bialowas Pobutsky shows how Escobar's legacy inspired the development of narcocultura-television, music, literature, and fashion representing the drug-trafficking lifestyle-in Colombia and around the world"--

Loving Pablo, Hating Escobar Jun 11 2021 A revealing memoir of Colombian television journalist Virginia Vallejo's affair with the "King of Cocaine," notorious Medellín drug lord, Pablo Escobar. Soon to be a major motion picture starring Javier Bardem and Penelope Cruz. At 33, Virginia Vallejo was media elite. A renowned anchorwoman and socialite, and a model who appeared on magazine covers worldwide, Vallejo was the darling of Colombia's most powerful politicians and billionaires. Meeting Pablo Escobar in 1983, and becoming his mistress for many years, she witnessed the rise of a drug empire that was characterized by Escobar's far-reaching political corruption, his extraordinary wealth, and a network of violent crime that lasted until his death in 1993. In this highly personal and insightful story, Vallejo characterizes the duality of Escobar's charm and charisma as a benefactor to the people of Colombia, and the repulsion of his criminal actions as a tyrannical terrorist and enemy of many world leaders. Told from the present day perspective, and reflecting on her cooperation with the US Department of Justice, in 2006, as she testified against high-ranking Colombian ministers on trial for conspiracy and murder, Vallejo offers a compelling work of intimate reflection and critical journalism--a unique perspective on the Colombian drug wars and the endlessly fascinating figure, Pablo Escobar.

Pablo Escobar Dec 29 2022 THE INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER FROM PABLO ESCOBAR'S SON
Until now, we believed that everything had been said about the rise and fall of the most infamous drug lord of all time, Pablo Escobar – from books to film to the cult series 'Narcos'. But these versions have always been told from the outside, only capturing half the truth, and never from the intimacy of his own home. Now, more than two decades after the full-fledged manhunt finally caught up with Escobar, his son brings us the dramatic truth as never before. Here we find a man of contradictions – generosity and infinite love for his family; yet capable of the most extreme acts of cruelty and violence. In a deeply personal exploration of his father, we see the inner world of a man who was celebrated by some as a benevolent Robin Hood figure and by others, as a dangerous leader of the most ruthless mafia organisation in human history, reaping vengeance and death on anyone that might stand in his way. When Escobar died, his then teenage son vowed revenge. But Escobar Jr. quickly recognised that meant following in his father's footsteps—something neither of them had ever wanted. With his change of heart, he denounced the Pablo Escobar legacy. This is far from the story of a child seeking redemption, but a shocking look at the consequences of violence and his attempt to come to terms with it.

Killing Pablo Nov 16 2021 "Bowden has a way of making modern nonfiction read like the best of novels . . . [Killing Pablo] is absolutely riveting."--Denver Post A tour de force of investigative journalism, Killing Pablo is the story of the violent rise and fall of Pablo Escobar, the head of the Colombian Medellin cocaine cartel. Escobar's criminal empire held a nation of thirty million hostage in a reign of terror that would end only with his death. In an intense, up-close account, award-winning journalist Mark Bowden exposes details never before revealed about the U.S.-led covert sixteen-month manhunt. With unprecedented access to important players--including Colombian president Cesar Gaviria and the incorruptible head of the special police unit that pursued Escobar, Colonel Hugo Martinez--as well as top-secret documents and transcripts of Escobar's intercepted phone conversations, Bowden has produced a gripping narrative that is a stark portrayal of rough justice in the real world.

Pablo Escobar Mar 20 2022 The mind-blowing true story of Pablo Escobar and the Medellin Cartel beyond their portrayal on Netflix. Colombian drug lord Pablo Escobar was a devoted family man and a psychopathic killer; a terrible enemy, yet a wonderful friend. While donating millions to the poor, he bombed and tortured his enemies - some had their eyeballs removed with hot spoons. Through ruthless cunning and America's insatiable appetite for cocaine, he became a multi-billionaire, who lived in a $100-million house with its own zoo. Pablo Escobar: Beyond Narcos demolishes the standard good versus evil telling of his story. The authorities were not hunting Pablo down to stop his cocaine business. They were taking over it. Shaun Attwood's War on Drugs trilogy - Pablo Escobar, American Made, and We Are Being Lied To - is a series of harrowing, action-packed and interlinked true stories that demonstrate the catastrophic consequences of drug prohibition."

Son of the Cali Cartel Mar 28 2020 "Finally, the truth about the Cali Cartel that Narcos never showed," - Shaun Attwood, true crime author/YouTuber The Cali Cartel was the most powerful drug organisation that Colombia has ever seen. It financed the hunt for Pablo Escobar and controlled the majority of the global cocaine trade. The two main capos, Gilberto and his brother, Miguel, ran a multi-billion-dollar drug empire like a corporation. They bribed dozens of judges, politicians, military, police officers - and even presidents. This is Miguel's son's jaw-dropping autobiography. It starts with one of the biggest assassination attempts in Cali's history. Dressed as cops, six men carrying guns with silencers opened fire on Miguel's son William in a restaurant. Surrounded by his dead friends, William, seriously injured, was extracted and carried unconscious to a hospital. William reveals the role of the Cali Cartel in wiping out its main rivals in the Medellín Cartel: Pablo Escobar and Gacha aka The Mexican. Find out how William ran the cartel while his father was incarcerated and what he had to do to save his family from ever increasing threats and danger.

Summary of Shaun Attwood's Pablo Escobar Jul 24 2022 Please note: This is a companion version & not the original book. Sample Book Insights: #1 Pablo Escobar was born in 1949, the second year of The Violence, a civil war that saw millions of Colombians flee their homes and hundreds of thousands die. Pablo's parents were Abel de Jesús Dari Escobar, a hard-working peasant farmer, and Hermilda Gaviria, an elementary-school teacher. #2 Pablo grew up in Medellín, Colombia, with six siblings. He and his brother Roberto were close, and he enjoyed watching Roberto construct things such as radios. Pablo was sent to live with his grandmother in the safety of Medellín, and he fell in love with the city. #3 Pablo was elected president of his school's Council for Student Wellness, which demanded transportation and food for indigent students. He learned about the US meddling in South America for its own advantage, which often increased the suffering of the most poverty-stricken people. He developed an interest in history, world politics, and poetry. #4 Pablo was a criminal who rose above his peers by being extremely intelligent and street smart. He was able to outsmart and outmaneuver those who sought his advice, and he earned their respect by remaining calm and cheerful in dangerous situations.

Pablo Escobar Jan 06 2021 Colombian drug lord Pablo Escobar's ambition and ruthlessness made him one of the wealthiest, most powerful and most violent criminals of all time. Pablo Escobar, born on December 1, 1949, in Antioquia, Colombia, entered the cocaine trade in the early 1970s. He collaborated with other criminals to form the Medellin Cartel. He was killed in 1993. Referred to by his brother, Roberto, as a modern day Robin Hood, Escobar often paid for low-cost housing and other community necessities for the poor people of his neighbourhood. It was apparently a meticulously built image that Escobar promoted in his own newspaper and which ensured his protection by many Medellin citizens. Escobar built his drug trafficking industry to such an extent that he eventually controlled over 80% of the cocaine sent to America. With his own factories and an entire fleet of aeroplanes and ships, including two radio-controlled submarines, it has been estimated that Escobar smuggled 70 to 80 tonnes of cocaine from Colombia to America per month, and as much as 11 tonnes in each flight. In order to launder the drug money, the Medellin Cartel controlled a large amount of crooked white-collar workers, such as bankers, lawyers and extended family. In 1989 Escobar was listed as the seventh Richest Man in the World by Forbes magazine, with a fortune rumoured to be around $24 billion. He certainly loved to display his wealth and lived an extravagant lifestyle. He invested much of his money in real estate, splashing out on luxurious homes, many with private helicopter ports. He owned numerous cars, helicopters and aeroplanes, a private zoo for which he imported exotic wild animals, and a massive garden filled with hundreds of fruit trees. He also owned apartments, banks and large tracts of land. For his own protection, Escobar bought the support of other criminals, who also acted as his guerrilla army, carrying out any violence he demanded. Surviving Pablo Escobar Dec 05 2020 I've begged God for forgiveness, but I won't know till the day I die if He has truly forgiven me ... I've paid my dues to society by serving my long sentence, but perhaps I haven't earned His indulgence ... Oh my God, I've lived so many different lives! I survived Pablo Escobar Gaviria, El Patrón (The Boss), and it was the strength of his indomitable spirit that kept me going all these years; I don't quite know how or why. I still feel his presence every day of my existence. The Medellín cartel's crimes weigh as heavily on my shoulders today as they did yesterday. My youth, wasted in crime, became the sword that now hangs over my graying head. To the world, I'll always be known by my alias, Popeye, the fearsome hitman of the Medellín cartel, Pablo Escobar Gaviria's right-hand man ... How can I make you understand I'm a new man ... that twenty-three years behind bars in that hellhole have transformed the person I once was. Now the freedom I yearned for is vanishing in the murderous hands of my enemies. Perhaps fate has extended my life only to toy with me by preparing my own dying moments. I survived in captivity but I don't know if I'll be able to live in freedom ... A prisoner of my own mind, I'll try to fight to find some peace ... It's very cold ... now it's August 2014. I'm one step from freedom and I'm still breathing ... still here in this dimly lit cell in the maximum security prison in Cúmbita, Boyacá.

The true life of Pablo Escobar Jul 12 2021 "Hello beautiful. I am Popeye." In 1998 I met Jhon Jairo Velásquez Vásquez—alias "Popeye"—lieutenant to the Medellín Cartel's leader, Pablo Escobar Gaviria. Our first encounter was at the high security yard of the Modelo Prison in Bogotá, Colombia. I visited the prison frequently as a journalist for RCN TV. I was always conducting interviews and speaking to the inmates, uncovering news about what was really happening inside the prison. At that time, stories about confrontations between guerrilla and paramilitary factions were everyday news. You could often hear shots inside the prison as the different sides fought for control. I had always wanted to meet one of the members of the Medellín Cartel. I was curious to know who they were, what they looked like, and what these men, who belonged to the most powerful drug cartel that has ever existed in Colombia, were thinking. At the high security yard I was able to talk with two of them. The most notorious was Jhon Jairo Velásquez Vásquez. "Hello beautiful. I am Popeye." The man who sat in front of me stared at me. His pale skin reflected the six years he had been in prison; in fact, it looked as if he had never once stepped outside. Popeye smiled at me with curiosity while his cold eyes examined me from head to toe. We were introduced by another inmate, Ángel Gaitán Mahecha, a man accused of paramilitarism and homicide. My first impression was surprise and curiosity; I also examined him from head to toe. He wasn't quite six feet tall. His slim body and the smile on his face almost put me at ease. I thought this man couldn't possibly frighten anyone, and yet I couldn't forget the number of homicides in which he had been involved. I wanted to see into the mind of the man who planned and participated in the most horrible homicides that the cartel had carried out in their war against the state.

Pablo Escobar Oct 27 2022 Life is what you make it. Nobody can ever tell how in the world a young middle-class and innocent boy became one of the most wanted and most notorious criminal in the world. Sometimes, circumstances can change an angel into a devil and vice versa. A person is the only one who can decide for his own life and of the future that he would love to have soon. Money is one of the things that can make a person change into someone that is very unlike of him. Pablo Escobar is one of those innocent people who became the most destructive person of the past due to some changes in his life that had a great influence on him. Who says that only those celebrities are the most influential and most famous persons on earth? Pablo Escobar is famous not because he is a celebrity, but because he was one of the most notorious and richest Colombian drug lord who has supplied over 80% of cocaine that were smuggled into the United States. Pablo Escobar was widely known in the world as the "King of Cocaine" and became a big name in the industry of black market when he became the wealthiest criminal that has ever lived in history; with an estimated net worth of about 30 billion US dollars way back in the early 1990s. Aside from that, he had an approximately 50 billion US dollars when his money that was buried in several parts of Colombia are included. This book tells the beginnings and the brutal rise as well as the fall of the world's most dangerous outlaw and Colombian King of Cocaine Pablo Escobar, whose injustice criminal empire and reign held a whole nation of over 30 million hostages. His criminal empire has brought a reign of complete chaos and terror that would only end with Pablo Escobar's death and this had happened after a 16-month manhunt for Escobar. At his height and peak of success in 1980s, Pablo Escobar owned planes and fleets of luxury boats, and 19 different residences and mansions in Medellín, each with its very own helipad. There are many attempts to capture him, but he just simply bought off the police, judges and politicians all throughout the country and he killed the others who did not cooperate with him. The Colombian government tried many times to capture him, but he always evaded them. But in 1988, around one thousand national police searched and raided one of his luxurious mansions and with pure luck, he was caught with his pants down, literally.

Pablo Escobar Apr 21 2022 Smuggling an estimated 80% of the total cocaine being illegally brought into the United States of America at the peak of his career, Pablo Escobar was one of the most notorious Colombian drug lords that mankind has ever known. Known as the King of Cocaine, his net worth was estimated as US $30 billion in the early 1990s. Along with being at the helm of the Medellín Cartel, Escobar would sponsor soccer clubs and charity projects and was hugely popular among the poor people. But public opinion soon turned against him when he began sponsoring terror campaigns resulting in the murder of thousands of people. Pablo Escobar was shot dead in 1993 by the Colombian Police. Even 20 years after his death, there are people who still visit his grave every year. What kind of a childhood did Pablo Escobar have? How did he enter the drug business? How did he manage to reach

Pablo Escobar: The Life and Crimes of the Most Notorious Colombian Drug Lord Nov 23 2019 Pablo Emilio Escobar Gaviria was born on December 1, 1949 in Rionegro, the Antioquia Department of Colombia. His father, Abel de Jesús Dari Escobar, was a farmer and his mother, Hermilda Gaviria, was a teacher in an elementary school in the area. He was the third of seven children of his parents and began his criminal activities as a teenager. Some reports claim that he would steal gravestones, sand them down, and then resell them to smugglers. However, his brother denies that he used to steal those gravestones. His friends and family report that Pablo would often tell them that he wanted to become the president of Colombia. Instead, he became the world's most notorious drug lord.

The Notorious Pablo Escobar Aug 13 2021 Pablo Emilio Escobar Gaviria was born December 1, 1949 in the city of Rionegro, Colombia. He was the son of Abel de Jesu?s Dari Escobar Echeverry and Hermilda Gaviria Berri?o. Pablo's family moved to Envigado when he was young, where he went on to become one of the most ruthless criminals in history, responsible for the deaths of thousands of people and making billions of dollars from cocaine trafficking by setting up an intricate network of laboratories, transportation routes and distribution hubs throughout the United States and Europe. Young Pablo enters the drug business in the early 1970s with the ransom money as his starting capital. He works for other drug traffickers for his first few years. Fabio Restrepo, one of Medellin's biggest drug lords, is murdered in 1975. Because Restrepo's men were informed immediately after his death that they were now working for Pablo Escobar, it is believed that Escobar was responsible for this crime, despite the fact that this was never proven. Pablo Escobar did the dirty work that drug smuggling requires without hesitation. He was known for his bravery. Even though he was a rising drug lord, he never had a problem flying a plane full of coca paste more than a few times, mostly between Colombia and Panama. He decommissioned the plane he used to fly in those early years and hung it over the gate of his famous hacienda for good luck later, when his wealth reached legendary levels. His cocaine business had a very straightforward supply chain: He brought in high-quality coca pasta from Bolivia and Peru, processed it in Columbia into cocaine, and shipped it to the United States to be sold and distributed. Escobar was a smart businessman who made his business grow quickly and soon needed more employees. The Medellin cartel, an organization that gathered all of the criminal organizations in the suburb, was formed in this manner. The first drug cartel in history was the Medellin Cartel. Escobar took advantage of the opportunity to conquer and control a large market. The pilot who flew a plane for the Medellin Cartel could receive cuts as high as $750,000 per flight in a few years, depending on the quantity of drugs or raw materials he smuggled into or out of the country. His first import of coca paste cost only 45 dollars. It was not a secret that Pablo Escobar liked young women. His marriage to Maria Victoria Henao Vellejo, who was only 15 when he proposed to her, is evidence of this. The young couple needed the special blessing of the local bishop before they could wed. He and his wife had two children: Manuela and Juan Pablo. Pablo Escobar had numerous love affairs, the majority with minors, even though they were married until his death in 1993. Between 1983 and 1987, he had his most well-known affair. Virginia Vallejo, his mistress, went on to become a well-known television personality in Columbia. When Columbian television broadcast a video in which she accused a former senator of instigating Pablo Escobar in her presence to eliminate Luis Carlo Galan, a presidential candidate, on July 24, 2006, she became the focus of a significant media scandal. Her biography "Loving Pablo,

She testified as a crucial witness in multiple legal actions against politicians, including former Colombian presidents. The Truth Commission validated her statements. In connection with the Palace of Justice Siege, a high-ranking former colonel and a former general were given sentences of 35 and 35 years, respectively, following her deposition. In the end, the United States granted her political asylum.*
